Letter of Hope

A Renewed Hope Ministries Publication

Volume 2, Issue 5

WalkDWord Outreach

Our WalkDWord Outreach Ministry kick off was a rewarding and fulfilling SUCCESS! Thanks to everyone who came out to participate and support us in this event. This showed true commitment of your mission in doing your part to spread God's word. We've labeled you all true 'No Limit Soldiers for Christ' because of your determination. Even though it was storming that Saturday, you all were not discouraged and remain focused on the mission at hand. You gave no place to the devil and stood firm on the teachings of our Pastor Underwood's series, "Do not be moved by what you see." We saw the lighting and the heavy down pour of rain, but as we piled up in the van and made our way down Bessemer Super Highway; these soldiers on a mission continued to go over the strategy to attack the enemy by infiltrating his camp. As we arrived at our strike zone, Infantry (1) took aim at Wal-Mart in Fairfield, Infantry (2) - Western Hill's Mall in Fairfield and Infantry (3) - Midfield Shopping Center Plaza. Loaded with inspirational postcards and band aids, these group of soldiers attacked and conquered. With Jesus Christ on our side and God our General, the rain stopped for those 2 hours to permit us to carry out our mission. We meet and talked with over 100 people that day letting them know that there's no problem to hard for God to solve and the band aids we gave out was to let them know that God heals ALL wounds. Yes, we meet those who didn't care to hear what we had to say, but we also meet those who was encouraged to know that God heard their prayers and sent us their way that day as a confirmation that he's still in control when you call on him. It was a great day for us; God's children and as Christians, warriors and members of Renewed Hope Ministries. Our next WalkDWord Outreach is scheduled for September 2007, visit us online for more. (View the names of participants on back) Stay committed!

Stay Focused

As a Christian, never forget that you are a constant target for the devil. You will be tried at all times. People will chastise you, talk about you, lie on you, accuse you and even set you to take a fall. You must remember that the devil will use anyone he can to destroy your peace and steal your joy. To make matters even more complicated, he will use those close to you that have temporarily let their guard down (wife, husband, children, friends). This will catch you off guard because you would not be expecting it from someone as close as oppose to someone you know who truly want to harm or steal your joy. When tested in this manner, it is important to remember to stay focus and run your course. It is the devils job to distract you and best believe, he is more committed to his mission than many of us are to God's mission. As humans we give way to the flesh at times, but the true Spirit in us is there to bring us back. Always stay focus and remember who the only person you should be worried about proven yourself too, is the only one who promised you eternal life, peace, joy and happiness forever. Think about it!

School Time is coming soon. Plan ahead

Everyone knows about the extra long school supply list, the hassle of waiting till the last minute to shop for school clothes. The long lines and not enough available inventory, can work even the calmest person's nerves. Plan ahead, start preparing for the return to school at least two months ahead of time. When school sales start, double up on some items. You'll find out that when you plan ahead, your shopping experience is much more enjoyable and the little things that use to bother you, doesn't anymore!

See you next issue!
